Top performing independent school in Essex for A Levels 2010

A Level 2010

New Hall's largest ever A Level cohort are celebrating our best ever A Level results. One third of students achieved 3, 4 or 5 A*/As at A Level. 82% of grades were at A*-B. New Hall's record 57% at the top grades A*/A is double the national average. These exceptional results have brought much deserved university success. This year our New Hall students achieved or exceeded the grades they needed for competitive places in Veterinary Medicine, Medicine and Law. A remarkable 100 A Level modules were awarded a perfect 100% score.

15% of New Hall results were at the new A* grade, compared to 8% nationally. The New Hall Economics & Business Studies Department was celebrating particular success at the new top grade for its 19 entries. In Business Studies, 73% of students achieved A* and 100% achieved A*/A. In Economics, 38% of students achieved A* and 75% achieved A*/A. A number of academic departments at New Hall were celebrating 100% of grades A*-B: Economics & Business Studies; 3 Modern Languages; Critical Thinking; ICT; Government & Politics; and Music.

New Hall's co-educational Sixth Form has doubled in size over the last 3 years and the school opened its new St Thomas More Sixth Form Centre in September in response to the demand for places. This academic year New Hall also opened a £2.5m classroom block, Priory Court, to accommodate the increase to 1,100 students in 2010. New Hall is now the largest Catholic independent boarding and day school in the country.

GCSE 2010

GCSE students at New Hall are also celebrating the school's best ever GCSE results. A record 83% of GCSE grades are at A*-B and a record 57% are at A*/A (up from 46% in 2009).

A record 17 students have achieved 9-12 A*/A grades, which is 30% of the year group. The highest two performers, Claire Blythe-Tinker and Catherine Crawley, have both been awarded 11A*s and a Distinction in Critical Thinking. Once again, 100% of students have achieved at least 5 A*-C grades.

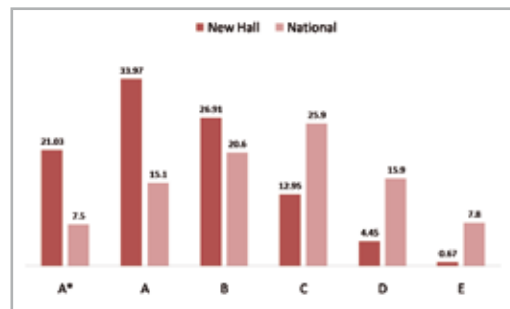

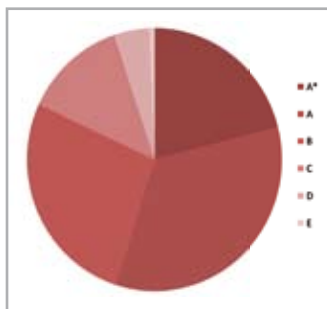

Top Catholic co-educational boarding & day school in the UK for A Levels, for the 2nd year running

GCSE Results 2010

“ We are very proud of our students and it is great to see their delight at these wonderful results! These record results are a testament to their ability and hard work and of course to the expertise and dedication of the teachers. We congratulate Year 11 on their achievements. ”
